Klorman to Construct Parking Garage for New Senior Affordable Housing Complex

LOS ANGELES, CA – April 30, 2018

Klorman Construction has been selected to construct a three-level parking garage that provides a podium for the 48-unit Mercy Housing Pico-Robertson Affordable Senior Housing Complex in Los Angeles.

The 68-stall garage will primarily serve residents of the mostly one-bedroom units, as well as some studios and a two-bedroom manager's residence, which is owned by Mercy Housing of California. The project, located at 8862-8876 W. Pico Boulevard, will cater to mostly 62-years-old and above seniors as well as homeless senior veterans.

The public garage, which may also be utilized by some local businesses, consists of three levels above ground, with one subterranean level.

Woodland Hills, Ca.-based Klorman Construction will be part of a team consisting of general contractor Dreyfuss Construction as well as Killefer Flammang Architects of Santa Monica.
